Beth Krupa Interiors (BKI) is a full-service interior design firm with a global perspective derived from Beth's experience living in London, India, Hong Kong, and New York

City. She uses her past travels and design expertise to target unique and high-quality furnishings and finishes found at design markets. BKI creatively collaborates with their clients to foster a sense of place that will inspire, motivate, and nurture. Armed with knowledge from market trends and skilled trades artisans, their team knows how to find, build, or design anything that can be dreamed up. There are times when a well-placed artifact can serve as a focal point to enhance a space and maximize impact. The designers look at every detail found in a luxurious environment and select each final finish from thousands. Creativity and beauty surround the design studio, and the designers use that same feel to solve clients' problems.
