

PORTFOLIO OF INSPIRED RENOVATIONS

Beth Krupa Interiors, LLC

“My clients bought this home over all the others because of the luxurious, cohesive design we accomplished throughout the ground-floor living spaces with the prior homeowners.”

The Backstory:
Same home—two different clients! I renovated and designed the living room and foyer (facing page), then my clients moved, and the new homeowners liked my design so much they asked me to finish the main bedroom (this page).

The Result:
The living room is a study in understated elegance with face-to-face sofas flanking the marble fireplace. The style is elevated by the judicious use of reflective surfaces. The foyer is now redefined as a beautiful, useable space instead of just being a pass-through. Twenty-four-inch honed travertine stone tile visually connects the spaces. The husband and wife’s juxtaposing styles (he likes modern clean lines; she likes romantic with an edge) make the bedroom design unique and exciting. Although I don’t consider myself a theme designer, this one lends itself to “Fairytale Romance with a Rock ‘n’ Roll Edge.”

BETH KRUPA,
ALLIED ASID, PRESIDENT
ASID CT, GREEN AP

BETH KRUPA INTERIORS

Beth Krupa Interiors
19 E. Elm Street
Greenwich, CT
203-890-9292
info@bethkrupainteriors.com
bethkrupainteriors.com

Charles Hilton Architects Reception

To welcome Editor-in-Chief Jenna Talbott to Connecticut, Charles Hilton and his Charles Hilton Architects team hosted an intimate evening reception at the Greenwich Historical Society in Cos Cob. Guests enjoyed light bites and cocktails while hearing about Talbott's upcoming plans for New England Home.

New England Home's Kathy Bush-Dutton and Roberta Mancuso with Sarah Blank

New England Home's Jenna Talbott with Rob Dean

Jenna Talbott and Charles Hilton

Charles Hilton and Tara Vincenta

Tom Robinson, Jose Goncalves, and Michael McClung

Austin Lankford and New England Home's Beth Emerich

Bill Charney and Beth Krupa

The attendees mingled at the Greenwich Historical Society

Photography by Regina Tamburro

Leisa Coyle, Bender

Heidi Holzer, Heidi Holzer Design & Decorative Work

Lauren Lefkowitz, ProSource Wholesale

Gary Shafran, L&M Custom Carpets and Rugs

Karen Berkemeyer, Karen Berkemeyer Home

Charles Camacho, Circa Lighting

New England Home's Jenna Talbott

The Supporting Cast

Lighting that complements circadian rhythms. Wall coverings that breathe life into a space. Sinks that fill your water pitcher when asked. Flooring that brings warmth to a room. These elements and others can be built into a home to better suit its occupant's lifestyle. An exclusive panel of experts discussed the crucial-yet-sometimes-overlooked "supporting cast" of a home's finishing touches. The panelists shared their unique insight into the latest products and customizable elements that take personalized home design to the next level. Catch up on the discussion on our website at <https://www.nehomemag.com/the-supporting-cast/>.

Globally inspired...intuitively curated... BETH KRUPA INTERIORS features luxe home accessories and furnishings, original artwork, and one-of-a-kind items from around the world—all with a cherished vibe.

BKI
BETH KRUPA INTERIORS

Design Studio & Boutique
19 E. Elm Street
Greenwich, CT 06830
203-890-9292
bethkrupainteriors.com